

"IN GOD WE TRUST" HAS NO PLACE ON COINS, SAYS

SEEK JURY IN TRIAL OF MRS. BRADLEY

Courtroom Crowded to See Woman Who Killed Senator.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The trial of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, charged with the murder of former United States Senator Brown of Utah, was resumed in the Criminal District Court No. 1, at 10 o'clock today. The case had been postponed from last Monday, on account of the death of Judge McComas, of the Court of Appeals. She was again the object of general attention. As Monday, the court room was crowded and much interest was manifested in the matter connected with the case. With these present were the twenty-six jurymen belonging to the regular panel, and soon after the beginning of the session the court began the selection of twelve men before whom the facts will be presented.

REGULAR PANEL CALLED.
The name of those on the regular panel were first called, but it was generally believed that it would be exhausted long before the jury could be secured. The case attracted much attention from the time of the tragedy last December that most people in the district have formed some opinion and it is generally believed that it will be difficult to secure twelve men who are not prejudiced.

Mrs. Bradley's counsel say, however, that they don't propose to be over particular in the selection of the jury and that they want men of intelligence and fairness.

$60,000,000 IS BEING IMPORTED

$8,000,000 Reaches New York Today by the Steamer Oceanic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—More than sixty million of dollars in gold has been engaged abroad for import to the United States since the present movement began. Announcements today of engagements of $800,000 by the First National Bank of Chicago; $200,000 by the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank and $1,000,000 by banks in New Orleans brought the grand total to $60,000,000.

Gold to the amount of $5,000,000 arrived here today on the steamer Oceanic from Liverpool.

PERIN, Nov. 13.—On the Bourse today the continued demand by Americans for gold had a depressing influence on prices.

ROOSEVELT PRESIDENT DEFENDS THE NEW COINAGE

Declares Use of Nation's Motto on Gold and Silver Is Sacrilege.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—In answer to one of the numerous protests which have been received at the White House against the new gold coins which have been coined without the words "In God We Trust," President Roosevelt has written a letter which he today made public. The letter follows:

"When the question of the new coinage came up, we looked into the law and found there was no warrant therein for putting 'In God We Trust' on the coins. As the custom, although without legal warrant, had grown up, however, I might have felt at liberty to keep the inscription had I approved of its being on the coinage. But as I did not approve of it, I did not direct that it should again be put on. Of course the matter of the law is absolutely in the hands of Congress and any action in that direction will be immediately obeyed. At present there is no warrant in law for the inscription.

CALLS IT SACRILEGE.
"My own feeling in the matter is due to my very firm conviction that to put such a motto on coins, or to use it in any kindred manner, not only does no good but does positive harm, and is in effect irreverence which comes dangerously close to sacrilege. A beautiful and solemn sentence such as the one in question should be treated and uttered only with that reverence which necessarily implies a certain exaltation of spirit. Any use which tends to cheapen it, and, above all, any use which tends to secure its being treated in a spirit of levity is to be regretted. It is a motto which is indeed well to have inscribed on our great national monuments, in our temples of justice, in our executive halls, and in buildings such as those at West Point and Annapolis; in short, wherever it will tend to arouse and inspire a lofty emotion in those who look thereupon. But it seems to me eminently unwise to cheapen a motto by use on coins, such as it would be to cheapen it by use on postage stamps or in advertisements.

"As regards its use on the coinage, we have actual experience by which to go. In all my life I have never heard any human being speak reverently of this motto on the coins, but I have literally hundreds of times heard it used as an occasion of, and incentive to the sneering ridicule which it is above all things undesirable that so beautiful and exalted a phrase should excite. For example, throughout the long contest extending over several decades on the free coinage question, the existence of this motto on the coins was a constant source of jest and ridicule, and this was unavoidable. Everyone must remember the innumerable cartoons and articles based on phrases like 'In God we trust for the eight cents.' 'In God we trust for the short weight.' 'In God we trust for the thirty-seven cents we don't pay' and so forth and so forth.

"Surely I am well within bounds when I say that a use of the phrase which invites constant levity of this phrase is undesirable. If Congress alters the laws and directs me to replace on the coins the sentence in question, it will be immediately put into effect, but I trust that the sentiment of the country will prevent such action being taken."

SHOOT RIVAL, MARRIES GIRL

A Southern Couple Wed Half Hour After the Tragedy.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 13.—Further particulars of the killing of young William Rankin at White Rock, N. C., by Clarke Norton, both of whom were members of well-known families, state that Norton went to the home of George Franklin, where Elizabeth Gentry, over whom the killing was about, lived. He had a marriage license and a revolver. After killing Franklin, his rival for Miss Gentry's hand, whom he found at the house, Norton and Miss Gentry left for a nearby minister's and were married within half an hour afterward. Norton was not arrested until the following morning when he was taken to jail at Marshall, N. C. He was accompanied by his bride, who begged to be allowed to go to jail with him, but was refused. The bride is a pretty 17-year-old girl.

He said he was on his way to Philadelphia to visit his sick mother.

ANNA HELD IS CRITICALLY ILL

Actress Has Pneumonia and All Engagements Are Canceled.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—News has reached theatrical circles here that Anna Held is critically ill of pneumonia at the Hotel Majestic in Philadelphia, and that the engagements of the Parisian Model, who has been in the United States for some time, have been canceled. Miss Held was taken ill last Thursday night, when she was found lying unconscious in her dressing room at the Chestnut street house. Pneumonia symptoms developed on Saturday and since then two physicians have been constantly in the sick room of the actress.

Kaiser Is Dined By the Lord Mayor

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany were entertained at a luncheon in the Guild Hall by Lord Mayor Bell and city corporation. Eight hundred persons, including members of the royal family, peers, commanders and naval and military officers attended. In a speech replying to address of welcome Emperor William said: "The main prop and base for the peace of the world is the maintenance of the regulations between our two countries, and I will further strengthen them so far as lies in my power. If the German nation's wishes to coincide with mine the future will show a bright prospect." Emperor William appeared in splendid spirits, but his face was pale, and drawn.

NITRO-GLYCERINE DEALS DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

Factory Employees Blown to Pieces and Many Houses Are Demolished.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—Two men were killed and three or four injured in an explosion in the Hercules nitro-glycerine factory at Bradner, Wood county, today, the factory was demolishd and a number of houses destroyed in the town. The concussion was felt for sixty miles around.

The dead: W. Irsco, John Washburn, both employees of the factory; Harry Boston, the superintendent, fatally injured. Irsco was blown to pieces, not even a shred of his body being found. Washburn died a horrible death, lying screaming on the ground among the debris and burning timber.

WOULD FORCE HARRIMAN TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

Arguments of Interstate Commerce Commission Are Begun Before United States Court.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Arguments of the Interstate Commerce Commission to compel E. H. Harriman to answer certain questions put to him during the investigation of railroad affairs were begun before Judge Hough in the United States Court today. The government was to be represented by Frank B. Kellogg, who has conducted the Commission's investigation into railroad affairs while Judge R. S. Levett was to appear for Mr. Harriman. The question that Harriman refused to answer related to the purchase of stock of other railroads in the interest of the Union Pacific and to the Union Pacific dividend. In regard to the $28,000,000 of Illinois Central stock purchased at $175 a share, the questions which Mr. Harriman declined to answer were as follows:

DECLINED TO ANSWER.
"Were the 90,000 shares sold by yourself, Mr. Rogers and Mr. Sullivan pooled?"
"Was it acquired for the purpose of selling it to the Union Pacific?"
"Was the stock purchased by you at a much lower price than $175 with the intention of turning it over to the Union Pacific?"
"Did you have any interest in the 105,000 shares sold at the same time by Kuhn, Loeb & Company to the Union Pacific?"
"Was the shares acquired by the same pool for the purpose of selling them to the Union Pacific?"

UNION PACIFIC DIVIDEND.
On the subject of Union Pacific dividend which was advanced from a rate of 6 per cent to 10 per cent per annum on August 15, 1906, with a subsequent rise in the price of the stock, Mr. Harriman declined to answer these questions: "Were you directly or indirectly interested in any stocks that were bought between July 19 and August 17 that appreciated?"

"Did you or any director buy any Union and Southern Pacific stock in anticipation of that dividend?"
In a brief which was filed with the court yesterday morning, Mr. Harriman set forth at length his contention as to why he should not be compelled to answer the commission's questions. He takes the ground that the commission in asking the questions sought to go beyond the powers conferred upon it by Congress and that to force him to reply to the questions under the circumstances would be to deprive him of liberty without due process of law.

BUSINESS IN BANKS GOING AHEAD

In Oakland banking circles everything has settled down to a normal condition and no further trouble is anticipated from any source. "There is every prospect for now on for matters to go along smoothly," said Secretary Meredith of the clearing-house today. "Business is being done quietly in all of the banks," he added, "just as if nothing unusual had happened. The situation has cleared up satisfactorily."

Mr. Stimson referred to purchases of the various stocks by Union Pacific and the refusal of Mr. Harbain to give an answer to certain questions. He said that these questions were merely to ascertain if any stock was bought for Union Pacific and from its officers or directors. The position of the commission, said the district attorney, is that it has a standing committee of Congress vested with inquisitorial powers. Mr. Stimson then cited numerous cases to show that the Interstate Commerce Commission had no power to demand the information sought. Interest was added to the proceedings today by the first appearance of former Senator John C. Spooner of Wisconsin, an attorney for Mr. Kaffman.

FRANCE EAGER TO HONOR TAFT

Dinner Will Be Given by the President to the Secretary.

PARIS Nov. 13.—The French government is greatly pleased with the reported decision of Secretary Taft to stop in Paris en route from the Far East and is anxious to honor the American statesman. A dinner given by President Fallieres doubtless will form part of the program, but every thing will depend on the length of the secretary's stay. Beyond the fact that he will arrive December 12 nothing is known, even that date may now be changed by modification of Mr. Taft's itinerary after leaving St. Petersburg.

In view of Emperor William's decision to remain some time in England, after his official visit to King Edward and his consequent absence from Berlin while Mr. Taft will be there, the Emperor has invited Mr. and Mrs. Taft to visit him in England. This invitation which was extended through Charlemagne Tower the American Ambassador to Germany who is now in Paris should reach Mr. Taft upon his arrival at Vladivostok. Mr. Tower believes the secretary will accept the invitation which necessarily will involve an arrangement of his itinerary. The ambassador however also expects that the remainder of the Berlin program from Mr. Taft's entertainment which includes a reception by the members of the American colony and embassy and a dinner to be given by ambassador Tower in Mr. Taft's honor and at which he will meet a number of high German dignitaries will be carried out.

MAKES MIDNIGHT RIDE TO RECOVER DIAMONDS

When Dr. W. L. MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE ASKS EXTRA SESSION

Wire Governor Gillett Setting Forth Need ---Will Introduce Consolidation Bill When Lawmakers Meet.

Consolidation was discussed at length last night at the regular meeting of the directors of the Merchants' Exchange. At the next session of the legislature H. C. Capwell, J. W. Bligh, F. W. Phillips, F. W. Meacham, forming a committee from the Chamber of Commerce and A. Jones, Adolph Schluter, Wilbur Walker, J. F. W. Sohst, J. C. Downey, a committee from the Merchants' Exchange will go before the legislature and introduce a bill for a consolidated city and county government for Oakland.

Abraham Jones who is one of the prime movers for consolidation said last evening:

"If we get a good government and proper saloon regulation laws we will have an ideal city. I can't see why Berkeley wants to join San Francisco and not Oakland. We will not come to come in. If they leave us alone we will leave them alone."

"We are not ripe for a charter yet," said Capwell, "but a consolidated city and county government. I think the framing of a new charter is a secondary consideration. What we want and need most is a consolidated city and county government for Oakland. Berkeley is invited to join Oakland. We will ask her to join this city in the most friendly manner. If she chooses to legislate alone let her. We will ask for special legislation for Oakland."

Don't our officials compare favorably with those of San Francisco? The time is coming though when Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda will join San Francisco which will be the New York of the Pacific Coast.

A committee from the Alameda County Progress Club consisting of A. M. Hart, M. F. Murray, A. V. Thompson and C. W. Wardell appeared before the members of the exchange and stated that they were heartily in favor of a new charter and would cooperate in this matter with the Merchants' Exchange and the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. They stated that the charter of today was inadequate and recommended one hundred freeholders and a committee of five to be appointed to act on the charter committee.

WELL-KNOWN TEACHER DIES IN HOSPITAL

Miss Mary B. Leslie, a teacher in the Franklin school died at the Fabiola Hospital yesterday.

Miss Leslie had been connected with the local school department since August 1906. Prior to that time she was in the schools of West Virginia, Ohio and Oregon. Her teaching experience covered a period of about fifteen years. She was a graduate of the Jefferson High School of Ohio and spent two years at Oberlin College.

A peculiarly sad feature of Miss Leslie's sudden death is the fact that she was practically the sole support of her invalid mother with whom she lived at 1288 Seventh avenue. Arrangements for the funeral are now being completed.

Several other of the bandits' victims of life are among the crowd which is now being held in the city.

Defense Files Important
Depositions in Support of Pardon.

GEORGETOWN Ky. Nov. 13.—The third day of Caleb Powers trial opened with increased attendance. The first movement of the defense was the filing of three important depositions in support of the avowal bearing on the validity of Taylor's claims to the governorship making good his pardon issued to Powers. One was from Attorney General Griggs under President McKinley in directing the postmaster of Frankfort to deliver mail to state officials actually holding office. Another was from Taylor himself asserting his right as Governor and accompanied by a copy of his commission as Governor. The third was from United States District Attorney W. M. Smith bearing on the same point.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the greatest kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease. Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail they are almost the last recognized by patient or physicians who content themselves with doctoring the effects while the original disease undermines the system.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable cures in the most distressing cases.

Symptoms of Kidney Trouble. Swamp Root is not recommended for everything but if you are obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritating in passing, it is a sure sign that your kidneys are diseased.

ALLEGES HUSBAND THREATENED HER LIFE

Mrs. M. O. Ames today filed suit for divorce against D. P. Ames, alleging cruelty and desertion. They were married in San Francisco three years ago and the wife claims that for a long time Ames has been abusing her. She claims that on one occasion he threatened to kill her and at different times threatened a revolver in her presence. She asks for the custody of their two year old child.

ARE EMPTYING SAFE DEPOSITS

Large Sums Withdrawn to Place on Real Estate and Other Loans.

BERKELEY, Nov. 13.—A favorable indication of the return to normal conditions in finance in Berkeley was the appearance of people in the real estate offices this morning with large sums of money, withdrawn from safe deposit boxes and other places for loans on real estate and other good security. The stringency of the past two weeks precluded all business in this direction, but the marked turn of affairs for the better is now in evidence, not only in the appearance of hoarded savings, but in large deposits over the counters of the commercial banks.

The local bankers say the improvement is phenomenal, considering the conditions elsewhere. All Berkeley banks are now paying large percentages of gold on checks to depositors. On small checks after clearing house paper or cash is now offered.

REPUBLICANS OF PALO ALTO GIVEN BANQUET

PALO ALTO, Nov. 13.—The Republican club of Palo Alto issued its declaration of independence last night at a banquet, which was attended by 150 prominent members of the party in the Santa Clara valley. The direct primary was hailed as the path to freedom, the way to cast off the shackles of the machine.

Cute Commissioner J. W. Willey discussed "The Good Citizen as a Politician." Professor J. O. Griffin took as his topic "Governor Hughes." The chief executive of New York was at one time a professor at Cornell University and is a personal friend of Dr. Griffin. "Local Independence" was the theme of W. A. Hensley of San Jose. R. G. Guyett spoke on "San Francisco Politics" and George A. Van Smith on "The Direct Primary."

MANY TAKEN IN LOTTERY RAID

200 Arrests Expected to Follow Gigantic Exposure Begun in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The alleged biggest lottery in operation in the United States, which has been running for more than twenty years, with headquarters in Chicago, is claimed to have been exposed last night by arrests in this and other cities of the country. The United States Secret Service men claim that the promoters of the scheme have made millions of dollars and that there are big men behind it who will be reached through prosecution of the men now under arrest.

Under the name of the Old Reliable Guaranty Loan and Trust Company, the alleged lottery maintained four luxuriously furnished offices in Chicago.

MAKE BIG RAID.

Secret Service Agents Harry T. Donaghy, Otto F. Kinkade and Lawrence Hickey raided all four of these establishments last night and obtained thousands of tickets, lottery paraphernalia, checks and returns from agents, and the plates from which the tickets were printed.

D. H. Jones, alias D. H. Kissam, who has lived in very expensive style, was arrested as the head of the concern. John E. Miner was arrested as a partner. Miner claimed to be in the real estate business.

Warrants were issued for Miss Cora Jones, the confidential secretary of Jones, and Walter Schimsky, bookkeeper.

MANY ARRESTED.

George E. Geisler, the St. Louis agent of the concern, was arrested in that city, and a large number of lottery tickets and records confiscated. Frank Walker, agent at Fort Wayne, was arrested by Agent Donaghy. Charles and Roy Hiammer were arrested at Indianapolis by Agent Kinkade, and John T. Markland was arrested at McKeesport, Pa. All were held under heavy bonds.

The Secret Service, from the records that they have obtained expect to make more than 200 arrests in various cities of the country.

An attempt will also be made to involve the express companies all over the country as agents or accomplices under the federal act of 1895, forbidding the operation of lotteries, as it is believed that they handled the business of the company with the knowledge that it was a lottery scheme in violation of the law.

Commissioner Poole early today held Jones without bail. Jones is more than 70 years old and very feeble. He is a sufferer from heart trouble and was allowed to go to his apartment under surveillance, as his confinement in jail might prove fatal. Miner was held in $5000 bail and Miss Green in $500 bail.

HEAVY SEAS ROUT FISHERS

Waves Destroying Crawfish Traps Near San Pedro and Camps Abandoned.

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 13.—Many crawfish traps have been abandoned on account of the number of traps which have been destroyed within the last week by the unusually heavy seas. Most of the fishing is now done in deep water.

Because of the danger in net pulling many traps have been abandoned. Though very scarce, the fish are running larger in size where now taken. The fishermen have the trust in a hole, as they refuse to deliver fish except at top prices, and many of them have broken away from the commission men and are selling direct to consumers at from 1 to 3 cents under the market price.

The impression prevails among fishermen that the San Francisco and Los Angeles fish trust is responsible for the law passed by the last Legislature, which the trust advocated, but which the fishermen are now getting the benefit of. The best informed fishermen maintain that the trust, finding that the law has failed to object, will at the next session of the Legislature be on hand with a lobby to amend the crawfish section as it now stands out of existence. Meanwhile fish are high-priced and very scarce and will remain so indefinitely.

CALIFORNIA BANK FILES MORTGAGES WITH RECORDER

Transactions aggregating about $70,000 in which the California Bank assigns several mortgages it holds were filed today. A mortgage for $20,000 was also given to Thomas Crellin and W. G. Palmanteer upon property on Adeline street and Eminal avenue, Alameda, by D. Edward Collins, president of the California Bank, his wife Mrs. Emma M. Collins and Edna Collins Gaskill.

Another mortgage for about the same sum was signed by the same parties.

The California Bank assigned to the Bankers' Trust Company a mortgage for $20,000, which Hugh Hamilton had previously given to the bank, and held on property on Twelfth street near Jefferson. The bank also assigned to the Laidlaw Company a mortgage for $5500 held against Walter J. Smith, and another for $8000 held against Ed Pierce.

AUTOS PLUNGE INTO WATER; ONE MAY DIE OF INJURIES

MACHINE BACKS OFF FERRYBOAT INTO BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—A large $4000 automobile took a plunge into the bay from the ferry steamer Berkeley yesterday, carrying with it its occupant, J. C. Kambell.

The reversal of the lever of the auto, which Kambell was trying to drive from the ferry boat, caused the unusual accident. The machine tore away the guard chain and fell into the water with the noise of a firebrand being extinguished.

SINKS WITH AUTO.

Kambell went under with the heavy vehicle, but rose. He was sinking for the second time when a lifeboat from the steamer reached him and he was rescued.

Early this morning, when the boats stopped running, a steam plowdriver hauled into the slip located the machine and sent down a diver, who slipped a line under it, by which the wayward auto was hauled to the surface once more. It belonged to Henry Cowell, the lime and cement dealer, who had just bought it.

C. J. Dammon, a chauffeur, had been charged with the duty of bringing the auto from Oakland. With him was Kambell. At the end of the trip to San Francisco Dammon was standing on the deck. Kambell was at the wheel. At the signal to go ahead he threw on the power. He and a score of passengers were astonished to see the machine back and tear through the guard chain.

The machine rolled from the apron and disappeared from sight.

Kambell was beneath the water for many seconds. The spectators feared he had been drowned, but he came to the

PINNED UNDER HEAVY CAR IN CREEK BOTTOM

SAN JOSE, Nov. 13.—W. L. McKinley of San Francisco was seriously injured late Monday night when the automobile which he was driving crashed over the side of the bridge that spans the Gaudaloupe river, on the Alameda road, just outside the city limits of San Jose, and plunged into the creek below. McKinley, accompanied by a friend and two women, was speeding along the Alameda road from Santa Clara when the accident occurred.

A dense fog obscured the view and rendered it impossible accurately to distinguish objects on the road. McKinley, who was not familiar with the country, was relying on one of the women for directions. One of them asked him to turn into Delmas avenue, which is on the San Jose side of the bridge. McKinley, seeing the break in the houses at the bridge, mistook the gap for a street and turned the machine to the right. The car tore through the fragile railing of the bridge and plunged into the creek below, where it rested on its side.

McKinley was pinned under the car. A police patrol was summoned and McKinley was taken to the O'Connor Hospital. His right leg was broken at the ankle, his thigh was dislocated and his side badly torn, severely injuring the left kidney. His injuries may result fatally.

The women, who were uninjured, disappeared.

surface spluttering and shouting for help. Almost before he reappeared Captain J. F. Jones had the boat on the way to him. He was weak when rescued.

TRIAL SHAKES MRS. BRADLEY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—This morning the trial of Senator Bradley, for the murder of Senator Brown, she promptly followed Judge Stafford into court room.

A brief statement made by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Toren, concerning the crime, charged that of murder in the first degree in shooting Arthur Brown at the Raleigh Hotel in this city on December 3 last, Brown lingering until December 13th, when he died. The statement evidently embarrassed the defendant. She placed her gloves haphazardly on her face and her head shook perceptibly. Two men of the regular jury panel were called.

Jas. L. Fendrick answered the questions of the lawyers of both sides without provoking a challenge.

David M. Lee, a native of Richmond, Va., replying to the questions asked, supplied the first stumbling block. Asked if he could render a fair and impartial verdict he replied:

"I am from a section of the country that believes in the higher law and am an advocate of it. I approve of what was done in the Culpepper case; I believe there are certain circumstances that justify persons in taking the law into their own hands."

STRAY BULLET HITS WOMAN

MARTINEZ, Nov. 13.—Mrs. G. Flores was hit by a stray bullet Sunday afternoon, the wound being so serious that she was taken to a hospital in San Francisco. The shot was fired by a boy carrying a 22-caliber rifle, who had been shooting at birds along the waterfront.

The court sustained a peremptory challenge of the State and Lee retired. Hoover asked all the talesmen if a plea of dementia would prejudice them. The District Attorney's questions were practically directed to the point as to whether the fact that the defendant is a woman would cause prejudice in her favor. Most of the jurymen replied that if the testimony justified it they would return a verdict in favor of capital punishment, regardless of the sex.

Samuel J. Gray, a negro, was ejected on a peremptory challenge by the defense, because he entertained prejudice against the plea of insanity.

"I just wouldn't vote that way," said Charles H. Wilcox, an insurance man and a native of Georgia, in such clear and distinct tones as to cause a general demonstration throughout the courtroom, when asked to express his prejudice against capital punishment for a woman. He was promptly excused by the prosecution. Walter A. Baum was excused because he did not believe in hanging, although not opposed to capital punishment in other forms.

INSANE CANNOT ENTER ASYLUMS

Legal Holidays Bar Receiving of New Patients Into Institution.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 13.—As the result of a protest made by the local sheriff's office to Dr. F. W. Hatch, of the State Lunacy Commission, no more insane patients will be received at any of the State hospitals until after the legal holidays cease.

The order was the result of an attempt of Sheriff Reese to take a patient to the Stockton institution. He met with an absolute refusal on the part of the superintendent. Dr. Hatch says that an order sending a patient to a hospital during the holidays is not legal and therefore cannot be observed.

WAGON UPSETS; AN EXPLOSION

Five Men Are Injured at Western Pacific Camp by Peculiar Accident.

OROVILLE, Nov. 13.—One of the most dangerous accidents that has happened since the start was made in building the Western Pacific occurred yesterday near Big Bar in the Feather river canyon. At this point the wagon road passes directly above a large cut which a steam shovel is making.

A wagon loaded with four tons of giant powder and dynamite was passing along the road when the ground gave way beneath the hind wheels. The six-horse team was unable to hold the wagon and it rolled over the grade and upon a portion of the dynamite exploded and set fire to the powder, which in turn exploded with terrific force.

The horses were killed and five men working on the steam shovel were injured, one having his foot blown off. The teamster escaped.

MAKES LOVER FLY FOR LIFE

Man Finds Another in Wife's Room and Uses Butt-End of Pistol.

REDWOOD CITY, Nov. 13.—Suspicious of his wife, Louis Brant, proprietor of the Redwood cafe, broke into her room Saturday night and drove out George Martell, scantily clad, with the butt of his revolver. Next morning Brant came to the saloon where Martell was employed and ordered him to leave town. Mrs. Brant has disappeared. She and her husband had not lived together for four months, although he had paid the rent of the room where he captured Martell. Brant is well known throughout the county, frequently having kept a cigar store much frequented by Stanford students in Palo Alto.

Special Legislative Session.

Governor Gillett has so far delayed issuing a call for an extra session of the Legislature, but he is credited with saying that unless some unforeseen change should take place in the next few days materially relieving the money stringency, he will convene the Legislature, beginning next week. Although he has not given out the limitations he will place on the special session, the consensus of the opinions of those who have had daily intercourse with him is that he will call the Legislature together to act on only such well defined measures as will prevent increasing the present financial stringency through the withdrawal of more coin from circulation for the payment of taxes this month by extending the period of exemption from the penalties of tax delinquency; to authorize municipalities and counties to loan their funds to savings and loan societies as they now do to commercial banks, and to enable courts to hold trials when there are two or more successive holidays. These are matters in which the whole State is concerned. Unless a special session is called taxes will be delinquent before the end of this month, and those who have been unable to draw upon their bank accounts for the payment of taxes will thereafter become subject to the 15 per cent penalty. Meantime what money is paid into the offices of the various tax collectors will be withdrawn from circulation and the present shortage aggravated. It is essential, moreover, that the courts should be relieved from the fetters which a succession of legal holidays proclaimed for a special purpose places upon them. The effect of the legal holidays which the Governor wisely called in order that the banks might protect themselves and the interests of their depositors has been to totally suspend the operations of the courts, and it is producing a series of perplexing complications in the petty criminal courts which are holding their regular sessions as usual and disposing of the offenders brought before them. These latter courts are between two fires, namely, the necessity of remaining open and running the risk of their judgments being declared later null and void in order to clear up their calendars, or produce a condition which would be equivalent to granting immunity to the criminal element.

The question of the payment of taxes, the authority to loan public moneys, and the amendment of the code for the aid of the courts affects the State at large. They are all measures which are urgently needed to relieve a trying and extraordinary situation unexpectedly created, and which, as long as it continues, will be associated with increasing embarrassments.

San Francisco is, of course, desirous that the Governor should include in the call for an extra session the ratification of the charter amendments adopted at the recent election relating to the sale of its bonds and the loaning of its money to the banks. In a sense this is a local measure. But it is assumed that if these charter amendments are ratified in special session it will help materially to advance the rehabilitation of San Francisco's public buildings, and, in the rehabilitation of the city the State generally is interested.

Europe must get the breadstuffs of the United States for the shortage of wheat there this year has been unprecedented. Its hungry millions are crying for bread, and the United States is the only source of supply. It must, therefore, release its hoarded gold in order to get what this country possesses to relieve the distress of its people. Then, again, the greatest consumers of copper, of which this country is the main source of supply, have been compelled to buy 50,000 tons of the metal at a cost of $15,000,000, which helps materially to relieve the stringency of currency in this country. It will also help to revive the copper industry, which the fight between the Heinzes and the Amalgamated crowd that brought the present financial crisis to a head, depressed to such a degree, that many of the most productive copper mines in the country were compelled to shorten up in their operations and, in some cases, to close down altogether. It is the first time in the history of financial panics in the United States wherein it has been in the position to recuperate rapidly because it has a plethora of natural products which Europe must have at any price to supply its wants. The financial sky is, consequently, clearing.

The frozen North has an inexplicable fascination for those who have once entered it. The latest to succumb to it is Captain Ronald Amundsen, the Norwegian navigator, who, with a crew of six, was the first to make the northwest passage from the Atlantic to the Pacific in a small sloop of only about forty tons register. Not satisfied with what fame he has acquired from his achievement, Amundsen is planning a dash to the North Pole, reaching which has been the ambition of every voyager in the Arctic Sea for over a hundred years. He is preparing an expedition to start from San Francisco in 1910. Like all of his predecessors in Arctic exploration Amundsen is full of hope, and his plans provide for the use of Polar bears instead of dogs as beasts of burden. The success of such an expedition will depend, therefore, largely on the unproved experiment as to whether Polar bears can be subjugated to the will of man. As yet no Polar bear has ever been brought under the dominion of man so as to be of any service except as a show exhibit.

If the Italian organizations formed for the kidnapping of children and for the assassination of persons condemned to death by the Mafia and secret Japanese anarchistic bodies organized to assassinate the Mikado, the headquarters of each of which are established on the shores of San Francisco bay, are not run down and their members deported, this part of the State is liable to acquire the unenviable reputation of Paterson, N. J., as a refuge for organized criminals of the most dangerous type. Marin county has started the good work of cleaning out one organized Italian gang. Its example should be followed at once by other communities which are harboring other organizations equally dangerous.

Admiral Dewey echoes the sentiments expressed by the British admiral, Lord Charles Beresford, over ten years ago when addressing the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce during one of his visits to this State that a big navy to a maritime nation is the best and cheapest kind of insurance. The enormous cost of maintaining the British navy amounts to only about two per cent on the total value of the mercantile marine of the United Kingdom.

What is Carnegie after now? He has made a gift of $10,000 to the Chicago University. Is he aspiring to rival John D. Rockefeller as a patron of that educational institution? If he is, he will have to loosen up to the tune of about double the millions of the thousands represented in his first gift.

Wheat Growing in California and Brazil.

Wheat growing in Brazil is going through the same experience it did in California in the fifties. It had been the long common understanding in the South American republic that wheat and other breadstuff grains could not be raised there on a commercial basis, just as it was believed in the early days in this State that climate and soil here were a positive bar to this class of agriculture. The people of Rio Grande do Sul ventured to make experiments, however, and the result has been so successful that wheat growing is now well established on a successful basis and large flouring mills are being erected there to convert the coming crop into flour.

The first experiments in wheat culture in California were made by the late General Sutter, but farmers had so little faith in the possibility of making wheat growing a commercial success in a country with a climate which was over six months in the year rainless and which possessed a soil that was through the greater part of that period parched and destitute of natural vegetation that they fought shy of the industry, and, like the Mexican and Indian population preceding them in the occupation of the land, they devoted themselves to cattle and sheep raising. The first exports of wheat from this State were made in 1856 when two ships sailed from San Francisco with wheat to England. Up to that time and even later California imported flour from Chile, as Brazil has been importing flour for an indefinite period from the neighboring republic of Argentina. But the departure of those two shiploads from San Francisco bay in 1856 was accepted as a proof that all past theories regarding wheat growing in this State were at fault, and the industry spread. However, for years it was conducted on haphazard methods, the soil being merely scratched on the surface to save cost of tillage, and the wheat farmer relying on getting one full crop out of three (which was then the ratio) to compensate him for his enterprise. But California developed under these shipshod methods of the wheat farmer as the largest wheat exporter in the United States and it continued to be such until it was discovered that the soil and the climate were capable of producing under more intensive form of farming other crops of immensely greater value and with a greater certainty of success. Brazil will, in all probability, pass through the same evolutionary experience.

Los Angeles has solved the tax collection problem without waiting for any call for an extra session by the Governor or for any action of the Legislature postponing the date of delinquency. Its own authorities have extended the time of tax payments for a month.

HE CANNOT AFFORD TO TAKE BERLIN EMBASSY

Mrs. Longworth has been especially keen to have her husband enter the diplomatic ranks, the life abroad being very attractive to her. It has not been believed here, however, that Mr. Longworth would aspire to one of the most important European embassies, owing, chiefly, to the great expense necessarily devolving upon the incumbents of such posts.

Mr. Longworth is not a man of great means. His mother inherited from the Congressman's father a fortune of about $2,000,000, the disposal of which is in her hands. One of her daughters married the Viscount De Chamberlain, who brought no fortune to the family. At the time of his marriage to the President's daughter Mr. Longworth received an income of about $5000 a year from his mother. Mrs. Longworth then had about $2000 from her maternal grandmother, which it is understood, has since been increased to $5000. With the pay of the ambassador ($17,500) this would still make the combine income under $30,000 a year, a sum entirely inadequate to maintain the Berlin embassy on the scale which would naturally be expected of Mr. and Mrs. Longworth.

This is the principal reason why Washington does not believe that Mr. Longworth will go to Berlin—Washington Letter to Philadelphia Ledger.

PENNSYLVANIA GRAFT BY THE CUBIC FOOT

In several rooms of the Capitol at Harrisburg is a type of mahogany office table 8 feet long, 4 wide, 2½ high. The cost of each table to Sanderson, the contractor, was $40. He charged the State $1472, a commission of 3580 per cent. Still more remarkable are two round tables, for which $2600 was paid the builder, and for which the State paid Sanderson $90,748.80, a commission of 4895 per cent. It appears that all this furniture, and much more, was bought by Sanderson by the piece, but was sold to the State "by the foot" at $18.40 a foot. If we now take the dimensions of the mahogany table, which originally cost $40, and compute its feet by multiplying its length by its width, and the result by its height thus: Four times 8 is 32, 2½ times 32 is 80 and then multiply $18.40 by 80, we reach the sum of $1472, or the price of 80 cubic feet of table paid by Pennsylvania to Sanderson. This gentleman by similar multiplication found that there were 88 feet of blacking stand—and so reached the price of $1,612.80 for that article. The rostrums were dealt with in the same cubical way, as were the hundreds and thousands of other objects that you will find distributed through the five stories of the enormous building. Pennsylvania taxpayers have paid for I don't know how many thousands of feet of clocks, umbrella tubes, of clothes trees and of filing cases—everbody's.

THE COLLECTORS.

I wasn't but a little boy
When I collected butterflies.
And next I took to postage stamps,
And then cigar bands were the prize.
I had a lot of birds' eggs, too,
And horseshoes—some were red with rust.
My horner's nests were thrown away—
The maid said they collected dust.
But mother whispered not to mind,
For she had a collection, too,
And showed me just the queerest lot—
A baby's cap, a small pink shoe
A rubber cow, a yellow curl,
A ragged book of A B C,
A letter, thick with blot—I wrote
When she was once away from me.
I wouldn't give a quarter for
The stuff, but mother thinks it's fine,
And only laughed when I remarked
It wasn't valuable, like mine.
But when it comes to keeping things,
She gives me pointers, you can bet!
I sold or swapped nothing long ago,
But mother has her rubbish yet!

Mrs. Edith McCrerry Who
Is to Wed in England

Mrs. Edith K. McCrerry, the daughter of the late Colonel Lawrence Kip, of New York, who divorced her husband three years ago, and now is engaged to marry the Hon. Henry Thomas Coventry in London.

If Man Had His Wife Created to Suit, She'd Be

If a man could have a wife made just to suit his royal fancy, writes Beatrice Fairfax, I wonder what sort of a queer composite creature she would be.

Pretty, of course; that goes without saying.

It's all very well to babble about "handsome as a picture" and other trite sayings on the same order. Man does get great store on a pretty face, else why does he so often marry the woman who has beauty and absolutely nothing else to recommend her.

In his saner moments he imagines that

Pretty Obedient Economical
Hard-Working
(But Never Look It)
Tactful

he would like her to be intelligent. But if she is too intelligent she may also prove critical, which would not suit at all, so he is not quite sure about intelligence as a desirable quality.

He is very sure, however, that she should be obedient. He never loses sight of that requisite quality.

He does not demand that she should be clever. I doubt if woman ever yet was wooed for her cleverness.

She must be gentle and she must be sweet. But it must not be the type of sweetness that cloy. For fickle man is

HALF

quite capable of trying of his divinity should she prove too sweet.

LOOK TO HIS COMFORT.

Also she must understand to a nicety the art of making his majesty comfortable, and at the same time she must be thrifty, economical and hard-working, and must always look as if she never worked.

She must cater to his material as well as to his mental needs.

He is not very particular as to whether or no she has a very keenly developed sense of humor. Women who are over quick to see a joke are sometimes gifted

WOULD HE LIKE HER IF HE HAD HER THAT WAY

with sharp tongues, and sharpness of speech is not a desirable quality in any woman, from a man's standpoint.

Summed up, these are the qualities a man would choose if he were asked what qualities go to make a satisfactory wife.

She should be good looking, good tempered, capable, intelligent, patient, warm to him but cold to all other men.

In other words, she must be a delightful combination, but angel, half woman and wholly devoted to him.

There is one quality which man does not specify, and yet it is an absolutely necessary one—tact.

The woman who holds a man must possess tact to a marked degree; also she must possess that strange, intangible thing called charm.

WOULD HE LIKE HER?

The strange thing about it all is that if man could find a woman so made to order she would be the last woman on earth he would fall in love with. He would go straightway and lay his heart at the feet of some woman who possessed not one of the qualities that he deems so necessary, unless, perhaps, it were beauty.

He fondly imagines that he knows a great deal about woman and her feelings and virtues.

And yet I am afraid that he will have to take her as God made her. If he were today set down in our modern chaos he would differ very little from his twentieth century dress. By next week he would be dressed in the most up-to-date fashion, her heels would be as high as anyone's and she would know just what to wear.

So there is no use in man imagining that he can change a creature who has been the same for some thousands of years.

Faithfully she may be and probably is, but she seems to be the best pattern up to date and it will have to go at that.

Women with the millennium will come when made to suit man's order. I wonder will he like her?

WHEN HYPNOTIC WOMAN
ROAMS AT LARGEMERE MAN
FALLS LIKE
GRASS BEFORE
THE SICKLEFORTUNATELY FOR THIS OLD WORLD SHE
WAGES SUCH CAM-PAIGNS LONG AND FAR BETWEEN

It is born in woman to be more unconventional than man. She is, by instinct, the supreme individualist, says the Denver Post. Ordered society is for her ritualism, and not righteousness. The executive side of the organization of the living world is a man-made mechanism, and a thing that woman in her sweet and secret soul smiles at in derision.

She has been called the "Weaker Sex" ever since the gentleman of the Stone Age read the riot act to the wife of his bosom with a chunk of granite, and Mr.

Shakespeare once said her name was "Frailty." But once in a while she unthinks her hidden gun, and, when she ceases firing, the Lord of Creation searches diligently for places of silent retreat. Fortunately for the commonplace world these incursions happen only occasionally. For it must be admitted that if they were more frequent men would have to desert the affairs of life and grub for roots for a living.

The story of Cassie Chadwick, now deceased, is cited as a case in point. "We have no homely to preach over the lonely grave of this dead adventuress. We feel rather, in a certain way, some admiration for her exploits, and we admit, as a mere man, that her history has again taught us the lesson of becoming humbly.

When she entered on the career which led finally to a felon's death she went without any of the advantages that would have helped a man in such an exploit. She had nothing but the mysterious hypnosis of a woman who has broken through the age-long conventions of the world to make of man her prey, and she exercised it at large upon the very class of men whose training and instincts are a usual safeguard against such impositions.

SHE KNEW WHAT SHE KNEW EVEN IF SHE DID NOTMiss Silverstein Was Very Positive
About the Tub; She Had Been Told

DENVER, Nov. 13.—"I know what I know when I know it!"

The court gasped—so did the attorneys, so did the spectators. Even at this moment, which is twenty-four hours after the occurrence, it is probable that no one has fathomed the depth of this short and emphatic statement.

Nevertheless, it was uttered by the witness in Judge Riddle's court in such a positive tone that the quick wit of Attorney Philip Hornbein was overcome. In fact, for a short time even Etenograph Preston ceased taking notes—he had to!

And it was all on account of a bath tub and the quality of that piece of household furniture.

Michael Kirschstein claimed that, at the request of Max Rubin, he installed a new bath tub at 2830 Arapahoe street. He also claimed that the sum of $110, which was agreed upon as the contract price, is still forthcoming.

GIRL KNEW PLUMBING.

On the other hand, Rubin asserted that the reason he did not pay his debt to Kirschstein was because he had discovered that the bath tub was not of a standard make. It was this point which he sought to prove by the expert testimony of a steamfitter in the employ of the A. T. Lewis & Son Dry Goods Company. The witness, whose name is Miss Silverstein, said she resided at the Rubin home and knew all about the art of plumbing.

"Now tell the court," said Attorney Hornbein, "just how you know that this tub is not a standard tub."

It was then that Miss Silverstein made the statement which stunned everyone in the court room.

"You don't mean to say that you are educated in the matter of bath tubs as well as sewing?" exclaimed Attorney Hornbein.

"When I say I know a thing I am sure of it," she replied, the witness.

"But how do you know that this tub is not the standard?"

"Because I was told so."

"Are you certain that you were told the truth of the matter?"

"Yes, I am. I know that what was told me was correct."

"But how—"

Here the questions of the attorney began to repeat themselves and at last Miss Silverstein was told that she need not testify any more, much to the relief of the young woman.

It is probable that Judge Riddle also uttered a sigh of thanksgiving.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—Frederick Leonard was defendant before Judge Josiah Cohen on charges of non-support, brought by his wife, Mary E. Leonard, and the defense he made so appealed to the court that he intimated Leonard had good grounds for a divorce.

Mrs. Leonard is a Free Methodist preacher, and goes about from place to place on her ministerial duties. Leonard, addressing the court in his own behalf, said:

"My wife is on the go so much that I am not able to keep up her child. I have not even been able to catch her to pay her weekly stipend. I have been forced to pay her $40 for the privilege of carrying my 18-month-old child for one minute. I had become tired, to trying to get to her and waited until she should come to me."

Love Letter

ELKTON, Md., Nov. 13.—A love letter led to the capture this morning of John Thomas, who escaped from the Elkton Jail Saturday afternoon by scaling the 30-foot stone wall surrounding the prison yard. Saturday evening, shortly after Thomas had got away, Sheriff Kirk got a letter out of the postoffice for Thomas. He opened the letter and upon reading it found that it was from a young woman in Baltimore. The woman gave her address in the letter, and the sheriff, thinking that Thomas might show up there, notified the Baltimore chief of police to look out for him.

Early this morning Thomas went to the house, and was recaptured shortly afterward. He will be brought here and held for jail breaking, and, upon conviction, will be sentenced for that charge.

Flemish Girl

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—Miss Marie Dickow, an unusually attractive Flemish girl, who arrived here on the Red Star liner Manominee from Antwerp, is disappointed because Edwin Gottfriesman of Brownsville, Pa., her fiance, failed to meet her at the dock.

On the steamer Miss Dickow, who is a golden-haired blue-eyed blonde, blushing admitted to her fellow-passengers that she was to become a bride on the arrival of the ship, but as hour after hour passed and the prospective bridegroom failed to appear, it required all the efforts of her kind steamship friends to keep her courage from waning. She declares, however, she is certain he will come.

KAISERIN

Has Made a Special
Study of Medicine ::

The Kaiserin has made a serious study of medicine and few nurses could give her points. She is also devoted to gardening, and is particularly fond of orchids. Although a believer in the simple life, she has a great admiration for jewelry and possesses a fine collection of diamonds and pearls. An ornament which she especially prizes is a bracelet, the gift of the emperor, containing likenesses of the members of the royal family. Although the Kaiserin is not nearly so much heard of as her energetic husband, it is whispered in court circles that she is the Kaiser's principal and most trusted adviser. Many stories are abroad of her kindness to her people.

It had reached her ears that an old and bedridden woman had expressed a desire to see the empress drive past her window. Without delay the royal lady drove to the invalid's house and instead of passing, she stopped the carriage at the door. A few moments later she had entered the old woman's apartment and soon sat chatting with her. Another time the royal carriage ran over a little boy who was crossing the road. The Kaiserin at once ordered her coachman to stop and herself rendered first aid to the injured. She then saw him safely to the doctor and dispatched him a basketful of toys to the hospital, also her own physician.

MOTHER HEART IS YEARNING FOR
BABE ALL HER OWNWants to Adopt
Little Boy in Place of Ones She Lost

DENVER, Nov. 13.—There are various phases of the yearning of woman whose maternal instincts are continually making themselves apparent. There arrived in Denver a few days ago a woman from a distant city who advertised for a baby boy for adoption. The child must be of age not exceeding four weeks.

Dressed in deep mourning, this woman meets applicants with a proposition to take and keep and love and cherish and become, in all possible ways, a very mother to the child which is to be entrusted to her for life.

This woman shows evidences of being an estimable woman, and the story of the early deaths of her three children, all born in the last five years, is told with tears. She displays a dainty layette in which the adopted child is to be at once invested—little shawls, dainty knit blouses, immaculate long clothes which were prepared for the baby of her own which was destined never to wear them.

ALL HER OWN.

"I want the parents of the child I adopt to surrender him absolutely and for all time," says this bereaved mother. "I want no after claim upon him, and I must have it arranged so that he will never know that I did not give him birth. None of my neighbors, or others I know in the city where my home is must ever know that the baby is none of my own flesh and blood."

The lady says her husband is fully aware of her intention, and that he and she alone will know that the boy they are to rear to manhood is theirs only by adoption—and we are going to try to forget that fact. He must be just our own, own, own."

"The baby, being not four weeks of age, will fit my condition exactly, and no one at home will ever know of the misfortune through which fate again robbed me of a child. But by this method I will have one—my baby, my boy, and he shall have every advantage I can give him, and when he grows up he will certainly come in for $50,000 by inheritance."

So the youngster who is "never to know" may be regarded as by no means unlucky, after all.

Madame Humbert, of the fictitious "Humbert Jewels," was a plain and portly person, according to report, but she wielded the power of her name and feminine subtlety and fooled a score of Parisian bankers. Mrs. Gordon-Baile of England, played havoc with the hearts of half a dozen Scotch professors, duped London to the tune of fifty millions, duped the government of three British colonies and was the guest of a Lord Bishop when the law mannaled her.

We leave to others the homily that all sin is vain and content ourselves with the thought that if man is born of woman is desperately wicked SHE sometimes makes him look a very small potato.

CHASES PRETTY GIRL UP FLIGHT OF STAIRS AND
ROBS HER OF A KISS

SHARON, Pa., Nov. 13.—Is it an attack to steal a kiss from a male? The question is to be solved next Wednesday, when Chief of Police Charles Schaff of Wheeland will be arraigned before Justice Cook of South Sharon to answer the charge preferred by pretty Katherine Morl. Schaff is alleged to have pursued the young woman up a flight of stairs, and, throwing his arms around her, pressed his lips to her's.

The young woman was indignant, and immediately swore out a warrant for his arrest. He waived a hearing, and demanded a jury trial. The Wheeland council was shocked over his action, and at a meeting Saturday night dismissed him from the force.

Justice Peter Cook stated that he could find no law about a young man kissing a girl against her will, but he says that it is certainly an attack.

The jury may decide differently.

Young Husband Aged Fast
When Wife Got on His TrackSPOUSE TRACKED
HIM TO HOME
WHERE HE
COURTED
TWO GIRLS

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Paul Marx pre-supposed that his wife of a few months is not curious nor jealous of him. So he took a long chance. Marx is very young, only twenty-four.

Mrs. Marx, a pretty girl, had him in the Manhattan avenue police court, Brooklyn, on a charge of abandonment yesterday.

"Some time ago my husband asked me to receive letters that were not addressed to him," said Mrs. Marx, who had gone "home to mother," at 345 Broadway. Several letters, in a woman's handwriting, came to her home, 553 Marcy avenue. "Paul told me they were for a friend of his who could not receive them."

MARX AGED FAST.

Marx, listening, seemed to be aging fast.

"One day I got suspicious and when my husband was asleep I went through his pockets. I found two letters, both full of love for him—and I had received them and given them to him."

Metaphorically, Marx's hair was turning gray.

"So I followed him one night," Mrs.

Marx continued. "When he went into a house I made up my mind he was calling on another woman. I went in and found my husband was paying attention to two sisters. I accused him of deceit and the sisters demanded to know who I was. When I told them their caller was my husband one fainted. My husband had been posing as a single man, and the other sister, who did not faint, ordered him out of the house."

"No, I will not tell the names of the sisters. They are respectable girls and I do not believe in notoriety. If my husband promises to keep away from other women and support me I will withdraw the charge of abandonment."

Looking as old as Methuselah, Marx promised, and the wise Magistrate O'Reilly dismissed the complaint.

The Pretty Face of the Queen of Spain Now Looks More Womanly.

MADRID, Nov. 13.—Queen Victoria Eugenie, as her Spanish subjects call England's Princess Ena, has changed in appearance since she has been here. She now looks much more womanly, and often a sad expression clouds her pretty face, which is perhaps not surprising when one remembers the narrow escape she had from the anarchist's bomb on the day of her marriage. She is inclined to stoutness, but Spaniards like a strongly woman, and consider her all the more beautiful on that account.

Apart from the occasional sad expression mentioned, she seems to be quite happy, and her young husband is very devoted to her. Nor can she complain of any lack of affection from her royal mother-in-law or the other members of the Spanish royal family.

When seen in public the two queens look very well indeed—the stately Austrian and the young English girl, so Saxon like, with her pink cheeks. Both queens are fond of beautiful clothes and dress to perfection. The tasteful half mourning dress of Queen Christina served as a soft background for the dainty bright blues and pinks of Queen Victoria Eugenie's attire.

The Queens of Spain have always been famous for their splendid jewelry, and King Alfonso has given his wife, among other things, a superb closed coronet, which she wears on state occasions, but she never looks so beautiful as when wearing the splendid turquoise ornament presented to her on her marriage by King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

Empress Charlotte

A Member of the Royalty Almost Forgotten.

The Empress Charlotte is a member of royalty by the world forgot. So completely has she passed into oblivion from the world she once adorned that more than one modern historian has mentioned her in the past tense as dead. As a matter of fact, she lives close to Brussels in the quaint old-fashioned palace of Bonchaut. Perhaps, because of her amazing gifts of attracting love and admiration those courtiers and ladies in waiting who knew her in the first flush of her beauty and happiness have remained faithful to her through her deep afflictions. She has forgotten everything that happened after the assassination of her husband, the Russian grand duke, who, it is said, greatly to please his ambitious young wife, accepted the thorny crown of Mexico.

FINE PAINTINGS ARE EXHIBITED

California Artist Plans to Take His Work to European Art Centers.

In a large, well-lighted room, especially fitted for the purpose, named the James D. Hahn Art Gallery at 1219 Broadway, Giuseppe Cadenasso, the well-known and talented California artist, has placed on exhibition about thirty of his best and latest paintings. The collection consists principally of oils, but there are a number of pastels also, each and every one characteristic of the artist's originality, showing a greater variation in the choice of subjects and stronger work than was shown in his exhibition of last year.

It is as splendid a collection of landscapes as one could wish to look upon, taken individually each is a little world in itself, warm in tone beautiful in color, one can fairly breathe the atmosphere the scene depicts so true as the artist adhered to nature's hints.

TO VISIT EUROPE.

It is Cadenasso's intention to visit Europe as soon as he disposes of some of his paintings and exhibit his work in the salon in order to become recognized by the great masters, and to gratify this ambition he has devoted his time and best efforts towards producing a new and better collection than the one which represented his life's work, and which was destroyed at the time of the earthquake and fire.

From childhood art has been the lure which led this clever artist to attain the fame that he now enjoys. All the glory and success that he has acquired has come to him under discouraging circumstances.

Perhaps the most striking of Cadenasso's pictures is a large panel, "The Last Day of Sunlight," which shows two lonely, sombre-hued cypripedium trees towering majestically against a background of gloriously tinted clouds, tipped with the golden rays of the setting sun. It presents a warm massing of color and effective contrast which holds one entranced.

"LEGEND OF TAMAL"

Another of his stronger works is the "Legend of Tamal," which shows Mount Tamalpais in its most terrible mood. As one gazes upon the canvas, the mountain of a menacing purple color, standing out in tragic contrast against a background of warm tints and the clouds surrounding the top vivid with the bright hues of the setting sun, one is filled with the year which in the early days so terrified the Indians after which the mountain was named.

There are many other beautiful pictures many in the light pale gray hazy studies of which the artist is so fond, and which must be seen to be appreciated.

A vacant lot on Leavenworth street, between Eddy and Ellis, at 930 this morning was the cause of an alarm being turned in from box 375.

The fire which threatened buildings on each side, was started by a gang of workmen under instructions of the Board of Health, who are endeavoring to get rid of the many rats to be found in the burnt section of the city. Mayor L. F. Schmidt of Governor Gillett's staff is in charge of the work in the district in which the fire started. He said that the men had instructions to have wet sacks on hand but had evidently disregarded their orders. The damage was small.

No "betting privilege" for the Interstate fair has been sold for the very sufficient reason that the fair is in Missouri under Governor Folk, there is no such a privilege.

SALOON HELD UP BY DUMB MEN

"This is a Hold-Up," Writes Would-Be Robber Who is Captured.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—With one hand held threateningly in the hip pocket of his trousers, a dumb man who gives his name as Joseph Moran, stood at the bar in the Star saloon at 27 Seventh street at 2 o'clock this morning and calmly wrote on a piece of paper that the bartender and the other occupants of the saloon should consider themselves held up and produce their valuables forthwith.

This is the first time in the annals of the San Francisco police department that a dumb man has attempted to hold up. There were about five men besides Frank Dauter, the bartender, in the saloon when the hold-up man entered and with a glance around at the occupants, which seemed to say that he held them at his mercy he approached the bar, and, taking a pencil from his pocket, wrote, "This is a hold-up. I want a few nickels and I'm going to get them."

THINKS IT A JOKE.

The bartender was inclined at first to consider the matter a joke, but the hold-up man held his hand threateningly in his pocket, and so the former, taking the pencil, wrote back, "There must be no hold-ups in here," at the same time making a move toward the door. One of the other occupants slipped out by the Stevenson street door and, becoming alarmed, the would-be robber withdrew and ran hastily up Seventh street in the direction of Market, with the bartender in hot pursuit.

When Market street was reached Dauter, seeing he could not overtake his man, fired a shot into the air, which attracted the attention of Policeman F. C. Bink, who captured the alleged robber two blocks from the scene.

When booked at the city prison the man gave his name as Joseph Moran, an electrician.

WANTS TO FINE ALL

WHO DO NOT VOTE

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 13.—The fourth week of the constitutional convention of the State of Michigan has been marked by the introduction of Delegate Barbour a Detroit lawyer, of a proposition to stimulate interest in the voting by imposing a fine and imprisonment upon citizens who fail to vote and by allowing a rebate of three dollars or some other fixed amount in the taxes of citizens who do vote.

KNOCKED DOWN AND

ROBBED OF WATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—Charles Constantine, a waiter living at 610 1/2 Herman street, was accosted by two highwaymen as he was walking along Church street, near Herman at 1:30 o'clock this morning, and received a severe blow over the head from a blunt instrument in the hands of one of them.

Constantine was felled to the street and the robbers made away with a gold watch and chain valued at $75, also the victim's hat. Constantine immediately sought out a police officer, but a search of the neighborhood failed to reveal any trace of the culprits.

ALLEGED THUG HAS MUCH GOLD

Two Men Accused of Robbery Captured After Chase by Special Policemen.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—John Wichman, who arrived in this city from Seattle yesterday, had an exciting experience with two robbers at 4 o'clock this morning while he was walking along Fell street, and both men, alleged to be the footpads, were later arrested after a long chase by two special officers, and booked at the city prison.

Wichman says that as he was approaching Franklin street two men, who had been following him, came up and while one of them held him the other went through his pockets, taking $25. One of the men then struck him and he let out a piercing cry, which was heard by Special Officers Lowenberg and Higgins, who were in the neighborhood. They gave chase to the robbers and caught one of them as he was running up the stairs in the Oakes lodging house at Fell and Van Ness avenue. The other man also took refuge in the same house and the officers dragged him from a room on the third floor.

When confronted with the two men Wichman positively identified the man caught on the stairs, who gave his name as Mullin, but he could not be sure of the other man, who gave his name as Edward McGowan, and the latter was temporarily placed in detinue.

On Mullin's person was found a money belt containing $375 in gold, and the officers believe he is responsible for many of the recent hold-ups committed in this section of the city.

CATTLEMAN CAUSES

SUIT AGAINST RAILWAY

CHAPEL, Neb., Nov. 13.—Attorney-General Thompson today started suit against the Union Pacific Railroad alleging discrimination against E. W. Jacobs, who was disciplined by the road for driving his cattle into Nebraska to take advantage of reduced rates.

Jacobs ordered cars at Big Spring. After he reached that place with his cattle he was compelled to pasture them about in the hills for twenty-five days before he could secure cars. In the meantime shippers on either side of Big Spring secured cars. The penalty for violation of the discrimination clause of the commission law is not less than $100, nor more than $5000.

U. S. OFFICERS TO BE

AT TOKIO ARMY REVIEW

TOKIO, Nov. 13.—The Japanese army maneuvers beginning on November 15 and continuing for four days, will be attended by forty foreign attaches, including Brigadier-General Pershing from the Philippines and Lieutenant Colonel Irons, stationed in this city. The forces engaged will number 100,000. They will be divided into two armies one attacking and the other defending. The maneuvers, which will be the most extensive since the war with Russia, will close with a grand review by the Emperor on November 19. On the same day a luncheon will be given to the foreigners in attendance by Minister of War Teramachi.

FARMERS ARM FOR ROADAGENT

Men Traveling Tunnel Road Go in Pairs and All Carry Guns.

In spite of the search made yesterday to locate the lone highwayman who has been operating upon the tunnel road between Alameda and Contra Costa counties, no clue has been found. Sheriff Barnett stated today that he would keep up the hunt and hoped to run the fellow to cover before long.

The latest victim is Albert Reynolds, a farmer living near the Fish ranch in Contra Costa County. While he was driving along the road between the Claremont Hotel and the tunnel Sunday afternoon a robber stepped out from behind a bush and told him to deliver. Before Reynolds could make a move to get his gun which was lying in his lap, the man jumped on him and beat him over the head with a revolver. He took $5 of Reynolds money and ran, becoming frightened at the farmer's screams.

BUT ONE HIGHWAYMAN.

Reynolds describes his assailant as a tall and powerful man. He was neatly dressed in a black coat, a light pair of trousers and wore a collar with a string tie and cuffs. He wore a natty derby hat upon a mass of yellow curls. This description answers that given by the other farmer victims and it is the conviction of the sheriff and his deputies that all the jobs, and there are a good many have been committed by one man. Solid up in his hands have been appointments at different times, and although they have lain in wait for two weeks at a time in the different canyons near the tunnel road, nothing definite has been learned. Several suspicious characters have recently been sleeping out in the hills but as soon as a deputy put in his appearance they decamped. The tall man who answers the description was seen by two women the day before yesterday, but he did not stop to rob them. Nothing has been seen of him. It is thought that the only way to capture him is to lay in wait for him in the district in which he works. Owing to his apparent recklessness it would not surprise the authorities if some farmer got the better of him some day and put a bullet hole through him.

All the farmers that travel the tunnel road carry guns. Since the highwayman started his depredations there has been a reign of terror among the tillers of the ground and they are very wary when coming into Oakland on this road. The farmers from Concord, Lafayette and Martinez use this road and where formerly they traveled without fear they travel in pairs now with fear. They have been hauling hay and apples and have been in the habit of bringing home big sums of money with them. Some of them have had as much as $150 with them at a time and before the operations of the lone highwayman they had no scruples in taking it home with them. But now they take as little as possible.

Charles Gaylor is now in the county jail, held on suspicion for a number of the tunnel road robberies. Although some doubt is expressed as to his being the guilty man John Flood, a rancher who was robbed has positively identified him as his assailant and says that he noticed that the man who held him up was minus a portion of his index finger of the right hand. He noticed this when he looked down the barrel of the highwayman's gun. Gaylor has this deformity.

OUR CONFIDENCE IN CLEARING HOUSE CERTIFICATES

Why We Prefer Them to Gold Coin, Why They Are Being Issued, and Why it is a Positive Benefit to all to Have Them in Circulation

In order to allay any doubt or distrust that may exist regarding the goodness or safety of Clearing House Certificates we wish to state very explicitly why our confidence in them is as inviolate as in gold coin of the United States.

Each Clearing House Certificate is guaranteed by the entire resources and backing of all the banks in the Clearing House Association. No one bank is alone responsible for even a dollar certificate—it is guaranteed by the entire banking wealth of Oakland.

Before even a dollar certificate is issued there has to be absolutely gilt-edged securities to the extent of two dollars actually deposited in the vaults of the Clearing House Association. The men who pass on these securities are the most solid and experienced men in the banking business, men who realize their sacred responsibility and who could not be induced to jeopardize their honor and their interests.

The "greenbacks" of the United States government are guaranteed by the exact amount denominated on their face.

The certificates of the Clearing House Association are guaranteed by double the amount for which they are issued. Why, then, should we not have absolute CONFIDENCE in them?

The need of Clearing House Certificates is not caused by "hard times" but by exactly the reverse. Everybody is working for good wages, every branch of industry is prosperous, our railroads are pressed to the utmost to move the country's merchandise and to transport the prolific crops of the West, our gold mines are turning out millions annually, and our export trade is greater than anybody dreamed of a year ago.

But with all this increased wealth and evidence of wealth, there is not, temporarily, a sufficient increase of actual coin in circulation with which to do the nation's vast business. Yet everything justifies the belief that this unusual condition will soon yield to American genius, judgment, tact and ingenuity and business will assume its usual routine.

As reasoning merchants and citizens we prefer Clearing House Certificates because we know that it is best for us, best for you and best for the entire city. If depositors were to insist on the banks paying in actual coin and we were to be paid in coin for merchandise, do you know what we would do? We would hurry the coin back to the bank and exchange it for certificates, and we would do this because we know it is the safest and sanest course we could pursue.

We realize that we are all partners with our banks—we cannot do business without each other—we must protect each other, and speaking for ourselves we have the most absolute confidence in the soundness and good judgment of the Clearing House Association.

With this explanation we believe you will readily understand why we are glad to do business with Clearing House Certificates—because they are as good as gold.

and he expects to make it within the next sixty days.

The U'ah man believes it can be done within the time specified. He went down only to the 230-foot level, but he says he saw enough high-grade to convince him that such a shipment can be made. He secured samples of the pectore rock—of beautiful white quartz thoroughly peppered with the yellow stuff. Then, he himself picked out of the ledge. The high-grade streak of about eight inches stays with the vein, he says, from the surface to the bottom.

NEW PRESIDENT FOR COMMERCIAL COMPANY

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Announcement was made today of an important change in the management of the Northwestern Commercial Company. President John has been succeeded by W. R. Rust, manager of the Tacoma Smelting Works. J. J. Douglas was elected auditor of the company. Rose's retirement was due to ill health and a pressure of other business. He will continue on the board of directors.

The Northwestern Commercial Company is a holding corporation which controls several steamships, fisheries, mining and railroad companies in the Northwest, and in Alaska.
